Celebrate Bridgman brings back traditional Street Dance July 12

The Greater Bridgman Area Chamber and Growth Alliance (CGA) in partnership with Classic Catering & Events, Indiana Michigan Power, and the greater Bridgman community has revealed that the Bridgman Street Dance will return as part of 'Celebrate Bridgman' on July 12.

For many years, hundreds of people gathered in downtown Bridgman for the annual Street Dance. The event was often referred to as a giant community/family/school reunion that created a lifetime's worth of memories for attendees. Originally hosted by the Bridgman Fire Department, the Street Dance was put on hiatus five years ago due to COVID.

"After the success of last year's Celebrate Bridgman event, recognizing the City's 75th Birthday, the CGA approached Fire Chief Joel Buist and City Manager Juan Ganum about bringing back the Street Dance to coincide with the summer celebration," said Nancy Kiernan, Director of the Greater Bridgman CGA. "Both felt our organization could bring it back and create an ideal ending to the Celebrate Bridgman festivities."

Celebrate Bridgman kicks off with the Bridgman 5K/10K, & 1.1 Mile Fun Run starting at 8:00 a.m., interested racers can sign up at: runsignup.com/Race/MI/bridgman/5K10K.

Whether you're an avid runner or prefer a slower pace, there is a distance for everyone, including options for those who wish to participate virtually. Proceeds from the races will help to fund Bridgman Cross Country and Track & Field programs.

Families will have the opportunity to enjoy multiple activities throughout the day including the Autos 'n Ales Car Show at the Haymarket Taproom, a 'Paint by Numbers' mural painting hosted by the Corridor Improvement Authority inside the Courtyard, Pop-Up Market at Transient Artisan Ales, and the incredibly popular parade! Those wishing to participate in the parade can email organizer Sarah Buist at bridgmanparadecelebration.75@yahoo.com.

The day will come to a close with the Street Dance inside the Bridgman Courtyard featuring live music, local food trucks, and several beverage options including craft beer and wine

United Way's Annual Celebration Held as a Tribute to People and Impact

St. Joseph's riverfront is about to trade its calm summer breezes for a tiki party of duct-taped dreams! United Way of Southwest Michigan's ROCK THE BOAT, Presented by Honor Credit Union, splashes back into the St. Joseph River Channel at the Inn at Harbor Shores on Thursday, July 17, and we need YOUR team to build a cardboard boat!

Snag your slot early—registration is first-come, first-splashed. Sign-ups are live now at RockTheBoatForUnitedWay.com through July 5th. A big thank you to Honor Credit Union for helping us lower the entry fee to $350 per boater this year so more people can be part of the fun!

"Rock the Boat is one of those special events that reminds us how fun and meaningful giving back can be. At Honor Credit Union, we're all about supporting our communities, and we're proud to partner with United Way of Southwest Michigan to help create real, lasting impact," said Scott McFarland, CEO of Honor Credit Union. "Being part of this event isn't just about cheering on the cardboard boat races—it's about coming together as a community, having fun, and fueling the important work United Way does for local families and individuals."

Picture it: a thousand spectators on the shore, tropical beats thumping, inflatable palm trees swaying in the wind, and life-size cardboard contraptions barreling through race heats while you navigate around an obstacle or two hoping not to sink! Your boat design doesn't have to match this year's Tiki theme, but it definitely has to be made of cardboard and in a fun shape! Though if you really want to just race an ugly square shipping box, we welcome it, too!

Need supplies? A limited stash of heavyweight cardboard—free while it lasts—awaits registered crews at United Container Company in St. Joseph. Check out the website for more information and full rules, race route and other details you'll need to know before you get your creation wet.

Fund-raising is half the fun. Every team gets a customizable page on our peer-to-peer platform where fans of your team can donate dollars toward your chance to win a trophy (even if your boat sinks)! The boat that hauls in the most fundraising cash sails off with the Captain's Award, while the crew netting the widest wave of donors hoists the People's Choice Trophy. Last summer's event raised more than $30,000 with this year's goal being 50 boaters and $50,000!

Bragging rights are sweet, but every splash also fuels United Way programs that lift families across Berrien, Cass, and Van Buren counties—meaning even a spectacular sink earns hero status on shore.

Extra wind in the sails for ROCK THE BOAT comes from Honor Credit Union, plus series sponsors Whirlpool Corporation, Silver Beach Pizza, Gast Manufacturing, and Michigan Works! Berrien-Cass-Van Buren, plus supporting partners JV Studios, 99.9 Y Country, the Inn at Harbor Shores, the Southwest Michigan Regional Chamber, and Curi RMB Capital. Enjoy food trucks on site from The Brick House, Ben's Soft Pretzels, and Lost Coast Shave Ice, and the latest new drink from Watermark Brewing, Camino Ranch Water! Special thanks to Lake Michigan College, Brian's Marina, Competitive Edge, United Container Corporation, Gravity Productions, and Pepsi.

So rally the office, recruit the neighbors, lasso that trivia group—anyone willing to wield a box cutter—and claim your spot in ROCK THE BOAT 2025 Presented by Honor Credit Union. Then meet us at the riverside on July 17 to see whether your cardboard creation glides to glory or dissolves in a spectacular soggy mess. Either way, you'll earn a roaring cheer, a few high-fives, and the unbeatable glow of doing something delightfully ridiculous for the cause: United Way of Southwest Michigan!

Making Better Decisions

I own a small business, and over the years we haven't grown quite as much as I expected or hoped. We're doing okay, but I often find myself questioning my own decisions after the fact. Do you have any suggestions for an entrepreneur looking to improve their decision-making abilities?

Nikki

Dear Nikki,

I'm glad you're taking the condition of your company, and the direction it's heading, so seriously. Believe it or not, developing your decision-making skills takes practice and hard work, just like anything else. Even the best thinkers and decision-makers look back from time to time and wonder if they really did the right thing for their businesses and their team members.

Now, you're not wrong if you're sweating a little at the thought of how much practice it takes to develop these skills. Developing finely-tuned decision-making skills isn't easy. And like any process, it takes time. Here are a few ideas that may help you develop into a better decision-maker in the future:

Take an appropriate amount of time to decide - Acting on impulse, or with too little information, is foolish and dangerous. But then, so is thinking yourself to death. If the impact of the decision is small, don't waste too much time making the call. But if it's big or risky, spend more time thinking it through. It also doesn't hurt to seek the counsel of someone outside your organization you trust and respect.

Gather several options - Creativity may be problem-solving's best friend, but options are the fruit of creative thinking that lead to amazing solutions. You'll feel more confident when you gather information and ideas, and study what you're dealing with.

Learn how to delegate - By doing this, you'll free up more brain space to make decisions. And most likely, make better decisions.

Set a deadline - This will help you overcome procrastination, or freezing in fear of making the wrong decision. Put a target date on your calendar, and decide by that day. Period.

Play out the worst-case scenario in your mind - This may sound counterintuitive, but when you think through the worst that possibly happen, you'll see that making the call probably won't kill you—even if you're wrong.

Remember, choosing not to decide is a decision - Sometimes, it's the best path you can take for the short term.

Commit to your decision - Follow through!

And finally, take care of yourself physically - Get enough sleep and exercise so you can think logically and be well-reasoned. James Clear, the bestselling author of Atomic Habits, says, "Your problems adjust to their true level of importance after a hard workout and a good night of sleep."

Leaders lead. Always. When your team sees you taking steps to improve yourself and the company, they'll buy-in more easily to your vision for the future. They'll have added confidence in you. And it may just inspire them to undertake a journey of self-improvement, as well.

I hope this helps, Nikki!

Repair vs. Replace: Making the Right Choice for Your AC System

As summer heat intensifies, a reliable air conditioning (AC) system is essential for comfort. However, when your AC unit falters, homeowners face a critical decision: repair the existing system or invest in a new one? This choice involves weighing costs, efficiency, and long-term benefits. Understanding the factors can help you make an informed decision that balances comfort and budget.

When to Consider Repairing Your AC

Repairing an AC unit is often the go-to option for minor issues or newer systems. If your unit is less than 10 years old and the problem is isolated—such as a faulty thermostat, clogged filter, or minor refrigerant leak—repairs are typically cost-effective. According to industry estimates, minor repairs can range from $150 to $600, significantly less than the $5,000 to $10,000 cost of a new system. Regular maintenance, like cleaning coils or replacing filters, can prevent small issues from escalating, extending the unit's lifespan.

Repairs make sense if the system is still under warranty, as parts or labor costs may be covered. Additionally, if the unit uses a refrigerant like R-410A, which is still compliant with current environmental regulations, repairing it can be a practical choice. For example, fixing a compressor or fan motor can restore efficiency without the need for a full replacement.

When Replacement is the Better Option

Replacement becomes necessary when repairs are frequent, costly, or ineffective. AC units typically last 10 to 15 years, depending on usage and maintenance. If your system is approaching or exceeding this age, its efficiency likely lags behind modern units. Older systems using R-22 refrigerant, phased out due to environmental concerns, are particularly problematic, as repair costs soar due to the scarcity of this refrigerant.

Newer AC systems offer significant advantages, including higher Seasonal Energy Efficiency Ratio (SEER) ratings, which translate to lower energy bills. For instance, upgrading from a 10-SEER unit to a 16-SEER model can reduce cooling costs by up to 40%. Additionally, modern units often include smart features, like programmable thermostats, enhancing convenience and efficiency. While the upfront cost is high, tax credits, rebates, and energy savings can offset expenses.

Key Considerations

To decide, assess the repair cost against the unit's value. A common rule is the "50% rule": if repair costs exceed 50% of the unit's current value, replacement is often wiser. Consider the unit's efficiency, age, and repair history. Consulting a licensed HVAC professional for a detailed inspection can clarify whether repairs will suffice or if replacement offers better long-term savings.

Making the Choice

Ultimately, the repair-versus-replace decision hinges on your system's condition and your financial priorities. For newer units with minor issues, repairs maintain functionality at a lower cost. For aging or inefficient systems, replacement ensures reliability and energy savings. By evaluating costs, efficiency, and expert advice, homeowners can keep cool without breaking the bank.

Whatever you choose, BOSS Services is here to serve you 24/7, ensuring you stay cool all summer long.

Uncertainty Gives Focus

Jesus went on to say, "In a little while you will see me no more, and then after a little while you will see me."
John 16:16

Have you ever driven to a place that you know very well with your mind on something else? Perhaps, upon your arrival, you realized that you had almost no recollection of time passing.

Familiarity and routine may be comfortable, but it can lead to taking things for granted and paying little to no attention. When God wants to get your attention, he may allow something unfamiliar to happen to you.

When Jesus died, it certainly got the attention of his disciples. They did not see him, and they were very focused on what would happen next. Then Jesus rose from the dead, and they saw him again as he appeared again and again, even to over five hundred brothers at the same time. He told his followers they were forgiven and at peace. He focused them on their next great task, getting the word out about his resurrection.

It would be nice to know when we will see Jesus. But we do not know the date of judgment day, and we do not know the day we will die. For a little while, we see Jesus only in our mind's eye when the Bible is read, but after a little while, we will see him fully.

In the meantime, we focus on the continuing opportunities we have to serve him. When we are tempted to think that our lives are mundane, we remember what Jesus says in Matthew chapter 25. When we feed the hungry, when we give a cup of cold water to the thirsty, when we invite in strangers, when we clothe those who do not have clothing, when we visit the sick and those in prison—Jesus says, "Truly I tell you, whatever you did for one of the least of these brothers and sisters of mine, you did for me" (Matthew 25:40).

Prayer: Lord Jesus, until I see you again, focus my life on serving those around me. Amen.

from the Bridgman area. The Bridgman Fire Department will be onsite serving hamburgers and hotdogs as a fundraiser for their department.

"Our hope is we can celebrate our community as the gateway to the Makers Trail Festival and return to the tradition of the Bridgman Street Dance; giving residents and visitors the opportunity to gather together for a night of fun during the summer," adds Brett Boyd owner of Classic Catering & Events and the Title Sponsor for the event. "Many of us love Bridgman and what it has to offer, ultimately we want to create something that brings back that feeling of belonging and being proud of our community."

The Street Dance is a cash only event. Tickets can be purchased online or at D'Agostino's Navajo Restaurant, Harding's Friendly Market in Bridgman, Transient Artisan Ales, or United Federal Credit Union in Bridgman for $5. Additional tickets can be purchased at the gate for $10.

Mark 'Dad Week' next week with Present Pillars

Present Pillars in Benton Harbor is preparing to celebrate Dad Week next week, and it's inviting all families to take part to show Dad that he's appreciated.

Present Pillars Director James Gunter tells us this is the fourth year for Dad Week, something he thinks is really needed.

"I see dads every week that are just surprised that something exists for them," Gunter said. "I call it the silent majority. We always hear about the dads in deficit. We should start talking about those dads that are constantly and consistently showing up for their families and they're the unsung heroes."

Next week will feature several special events or observances to honor dads, starting Monday.

"We're encouraging everyone to wear blue and support of men's health by bringing more awareness to men's health and different things that ail men just a little bit more."

Tuesday will bring Frank's Tot Lot Clean-Up at Frank's Park on East Britain Avenue from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Everyone's invited to help spruce up the park. Later, they'll hold a private screening of Lilo & Stitch at Celebration Cinema. You'll need to register to take part.

Gunter says Wednesday will feature a chance for professional pictures with dads and their kids at the Boys and Girls Club Teen Center.

Before his professional career, he played college football at Michigan State University, where he studied Communications.

Duckett is now a motivational speaker and personal development consultant, focusing on student athletes in the fast changing 'NIL' world of college and professional sports.

This is the 37th year of the event which features fellowship, food, and beverages. Gates open at 5:30 p.m., with dinner served 6:00– 6:45 p.m.

Adult general admissions will be $45 per person (plus fees) and children ages 5-10 $20. Tickets may be bought online at www.bit.ly/BerrienSpartans until June 8, or until sold out. There are no ticket sales at the door.

Zo's Mini Donuts Announces St. Joseph Location!

Have you ever met someone that you can instantly tell will be successful no matter what path they go down? That is the exact feeling I had when meeting Zoey and Lydia Heyn, the sisters behind Zo's Mini Donuts. While I hope they will continue down the mini donut route, the two have an amazing entrepreneurial spirit that will no doubt carry them far in life.

Earlier this week they announced the opening of their THIRD location in downtown St. Joseph! What started as a fun project during the summer has expanded into, what could be, a mini donut empire with their continued growth and demand. Opening in 2023 at Vintage Finds - HCM (Harbor Country Mission) in Sawyer was so successful, they were able to expand in 2024 to a spot in New Buffalo, and now St. Joe. Below you'll find their press release announcing the opening of their third location - and trust me, you'll want to be there for it!

Zo's Mini Donuts, the beloved local donut venture founded by sisters Zoey and Lydia Heyn, is thrilled to announce the grand opening of its newest location in Southwest Michigan. The celebration will take place at 508 Pleasant St, St Joseph, MI 49085 on Friday, June 13th, with festivities running from 7:00 p.m. to 10:00 p.m. Guests can look forward to trying their award-winning hot and fresh donuts and a chance to meet the founders behind this rapidly growing community favorite. Their season will run June 13th through August 10th, 2025, with daily hours from 8:00 a.m. to 11:00 a.m. and Sunset Specials from 7:00 p.m. to 10:00 p.m., Friday through Sunday.

Zo's Mini Donuts began as a summer project in 2023 when Zoey Heyn, then a high school freshman with a passion for baking, noticed that her homemade mini donuts were a hit among friends and family. With the help of her sister Lydia, a Michigan State University marketing graduate, the pair transformed an old Coca-Cola trailer—painted bright pink—into a mobile donut shop stationed next to Vintage Finds - HCM near Warren Dunes State Park. Their unique family recipe quickly won over locals and tourists alike, with over 15,000 donuts sold in just the first four weeks of operation.

Following their initial success, Zo's Mini Donuts expanded to a second trailer in New Buffalo. During their off-season, the sisters received the top prize at the Southwest Michigan Regional Chamber's HYPE Pitch Competition, earning $15,000 to further grow their business. They also secured first place at Move Women Forward's Statewide Women Start-up business competition, receiving an additional $10,000. Most recently, Zoey Heyn competed at the International Career Development Conference (put on by DECA), presenting Zo's Mini Donuts against high schoolers from all over the world. Her business plan earned her first place, bringing home the first-ever international DECA trophy in Bridgman High School history.

With this support, Zoey and Lydia plan to introduce a third truck and establish a permanent presence in St. Joseph, all while maintaining their commitment to delivering fresh, delicious mini donuts and a welcoming atmosphere. "We're excited to open our doors and share our family's donut tradition with even more people in the community," said Zoey Heyn, co-founder of Zo's Mini Donuts. "This business started as a dream between sisters, and it's become a way for us to bring joy and sweetness to Southwest Michigan. We owe everything to our amazing customers, the Zo's Mini Donuts Family, who have supported us since day one."

What makes this even more special is their win at our inaugural HYPE: Highlighting Young Professional Excellence pitch competition back in November. Not only did they win over the judges, but they connected with their fellow competitors - cheering them each on from backstage. It's been a pleasure to watch them grow, and see their hot pink trucks pop up across Southwest Michigan. I hope you'll join me in visiting and supporting them this summer!

Connect with me directly at sspoonholtz@smrchamber.com or 269-932-4040. See you around Southwest Michigan!

Plagiarizing My Mom

Every year, around this time, I write about my mom, because of Mother's Day and her birthday, which aren't far apart.

It feels different since she's passed. For one thing, she can't give me any of her "Aw, shucks, you should write about something else." Which was gen-yu-ine shucks-ing, because my mother was right at the top of the list of "People Who Would NEVER Call Attention To Themselves."

Well, tough toenails mom; because I've determined that the tradition of our annual "Let's Embarrass Mom" column shall continue!

I turn for plagiarization – I mean, inspiration – to my Mom's "Grandparent Book" – a project she did for all her grandkids, which includes her personal answers to dozens of questions about her life and times.

Let's begin at the very beginning. The path that led to my Mom's co-authorship of this column began when she met my Dad, an encounter she describes thusly in her "Grandparent Book": "I met him on a blind date in March, 1946, when my dorm at DePauw University had a dance. The dancing area was so dark (one blue light bulb in the corner) that he asked me for another date in the daytime so we could see what each other looked like."

Fortunately she liked what she saw, or I suppose I wouldn't be here.

My Mom remembers this about her wedding day: "Rev. Carl Shafer, the assistant pastor, performed the ceremony, and it was his first wedding. He was young, and was so nervous that he could hardly hold his Bible, his hands were shaking so much."

Of course, Mom was a little excited by that day too, even 50 years later, when she wrote in her "Grandparent Book" that she was also "very nervous." (As a first-grade teacher for 26 years, and an impeccable speller, Mom was never happy I mentioned this. . .she usually grounded me for a few weeks.)

Mom had her five kids in slightly less than nine years, starting in a year I can't mention because it would reveal my big sister's age, and ending in a year I can't mention because it would reveal my little sister's age. And if I reveal them, they would both ground me for life.

Regardless, what happened from that first unmentionable year on became Mom's answer to the "Grandparent Book" question "What was your most important learning experience?" Mom answers, "Raising a family. We tried to be honest and decent parents. We wanted a healthy family, where we would like each other and have fun with each other. Even with disagreements and struggles and pain and frustrations, we could forgive and smile and love each other.

"We found much happiness, even though there were struggles and sacrifices and responsibilities along the way. There was joy and happiness in the course of our family life."

To appreciate what kind of person my Mom was, these last few sentences were her way of living to the last. Though her flesh was weak, her spirit still strove to reflect joy and happiness. She showed us her best effort to accept life gracefully and gratefully, reflecting one of her favorite sayings: "Good examples have more value than good advice."

Thanks, Mom, for your life of good examples. I love you.
